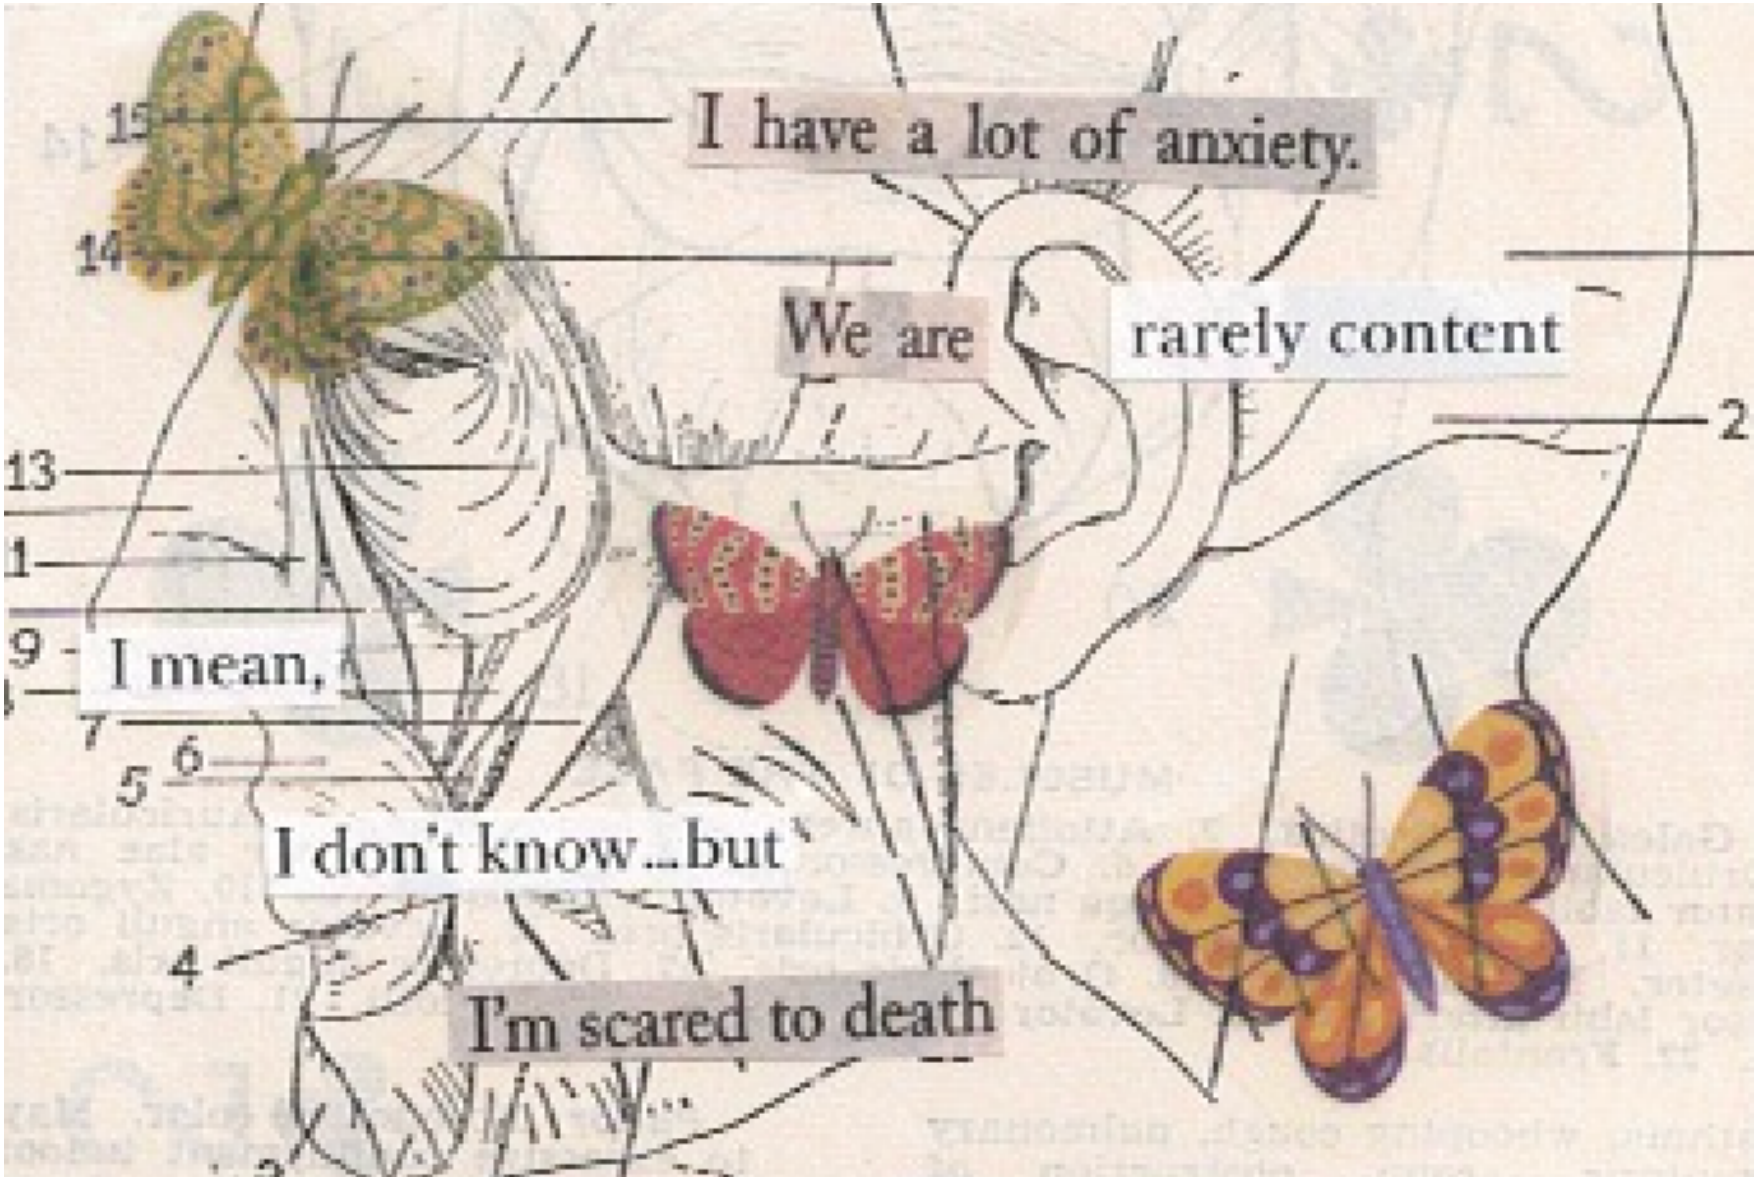
remember!
you're going to die



I have a lot of anxiety.
We are rarely content

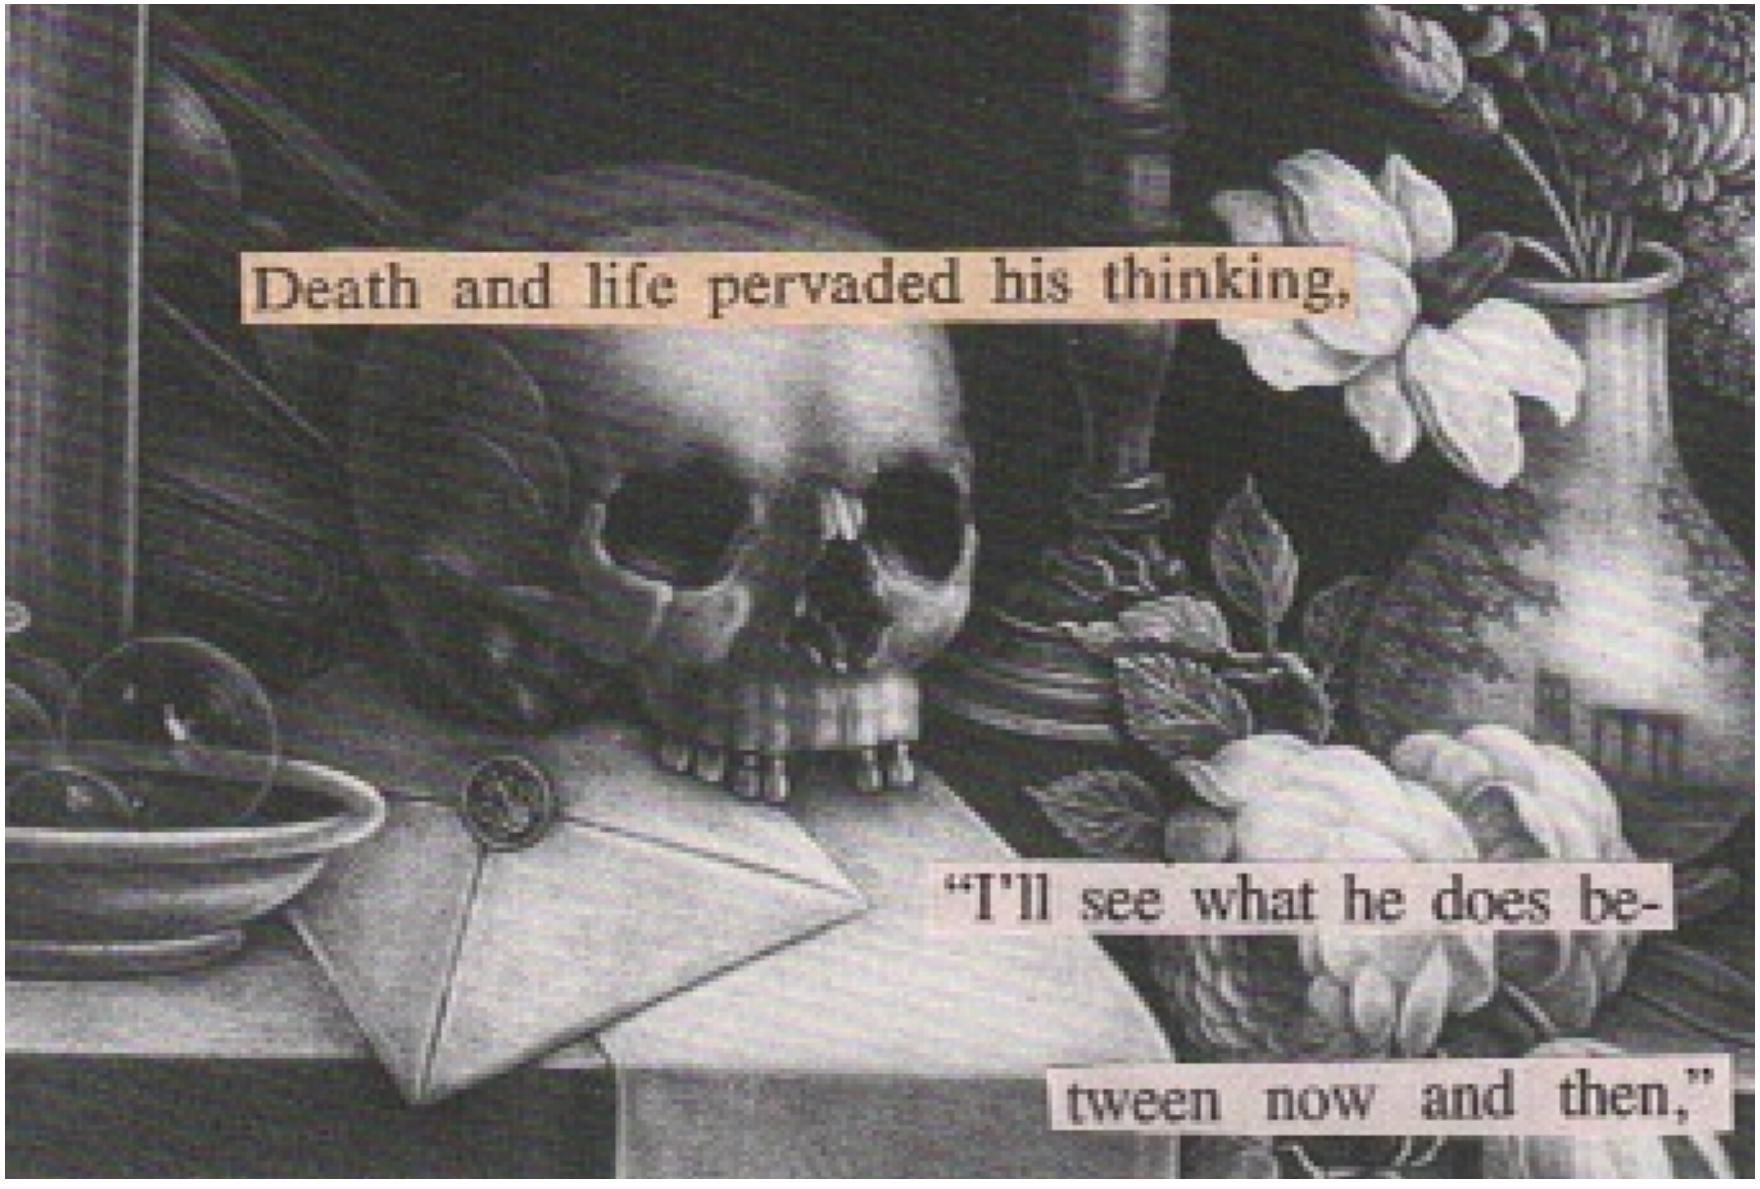
I'm scared to death



Death and life pervaded his thinking,
"I'll see what he does be-

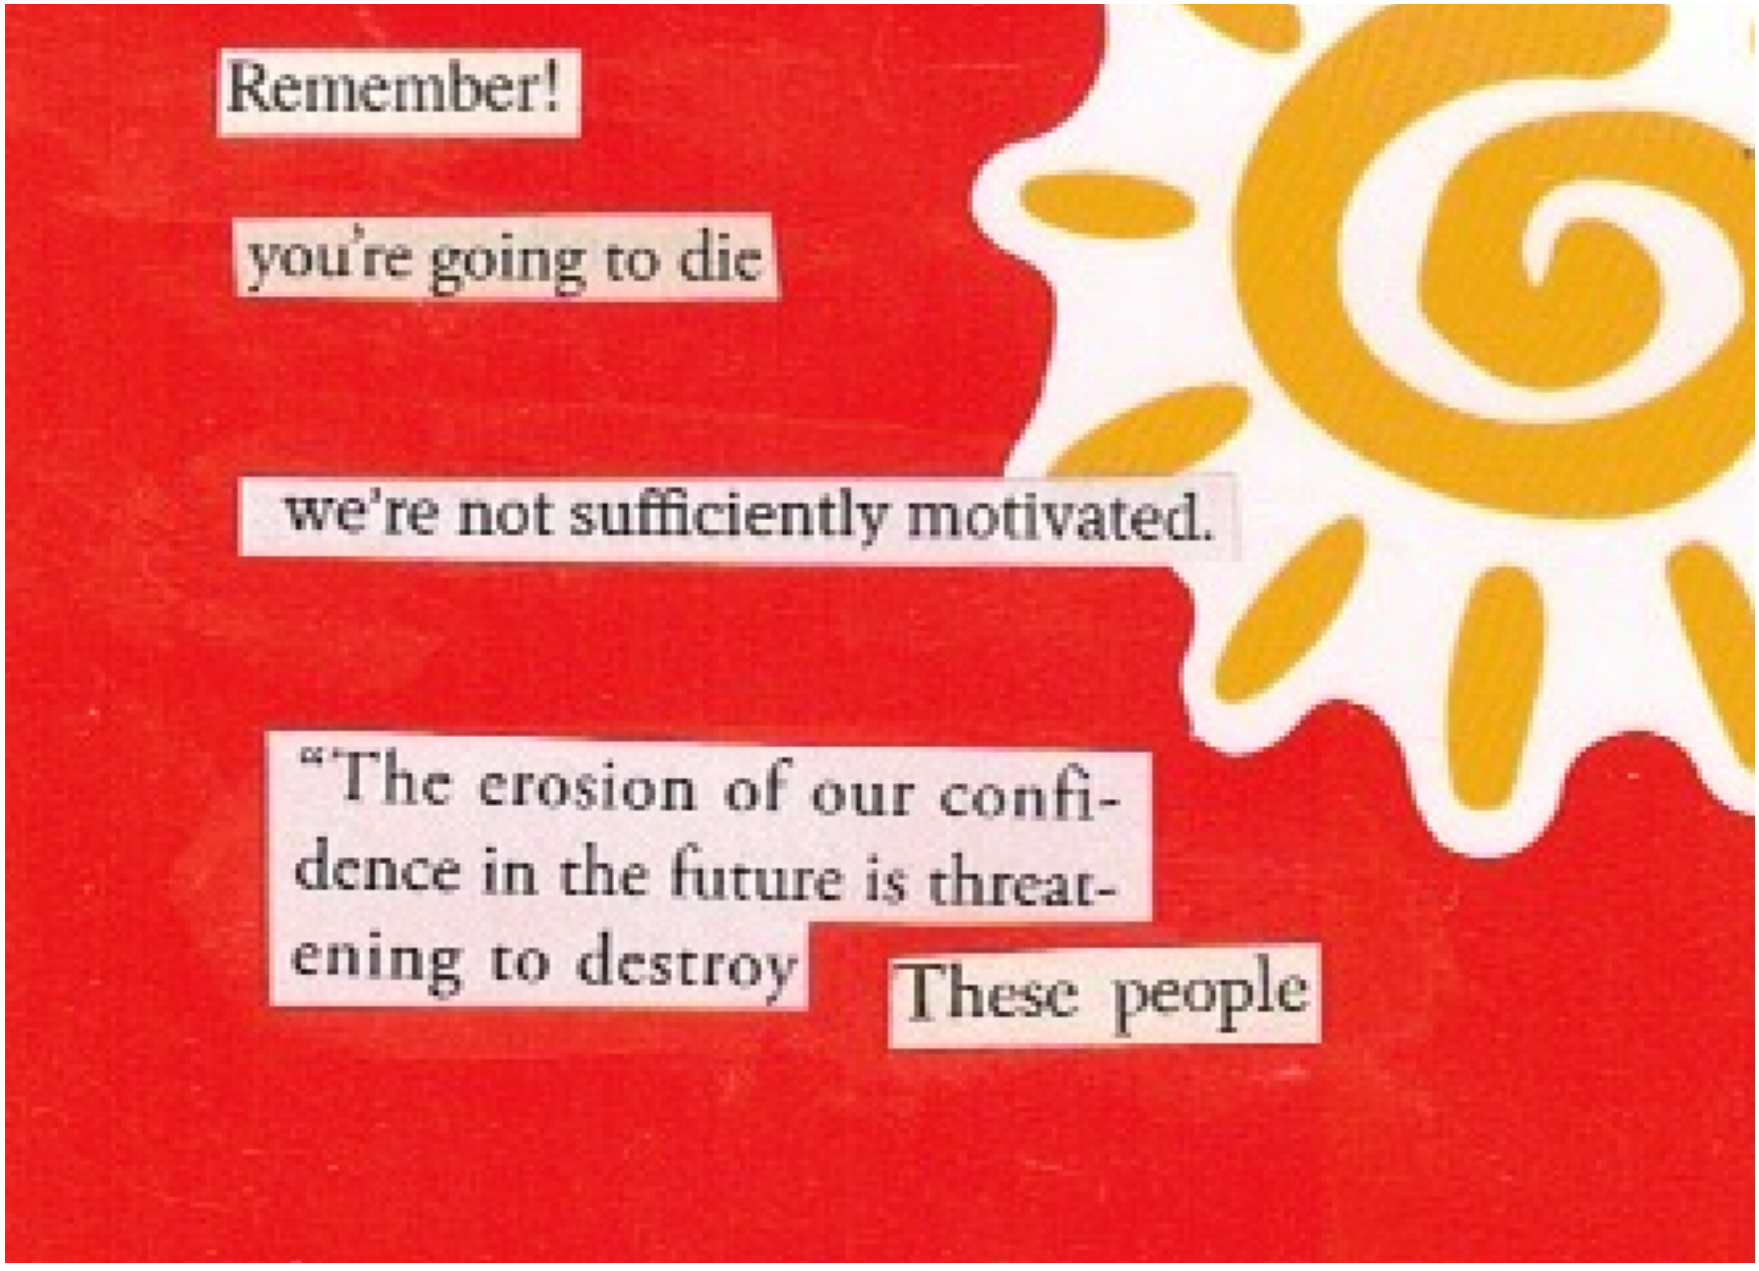
"Life goes quickly, doesn't it,



Remember!
you're going to die
we're not sufficiently motivated.
"The erosion of our confiening to destroy

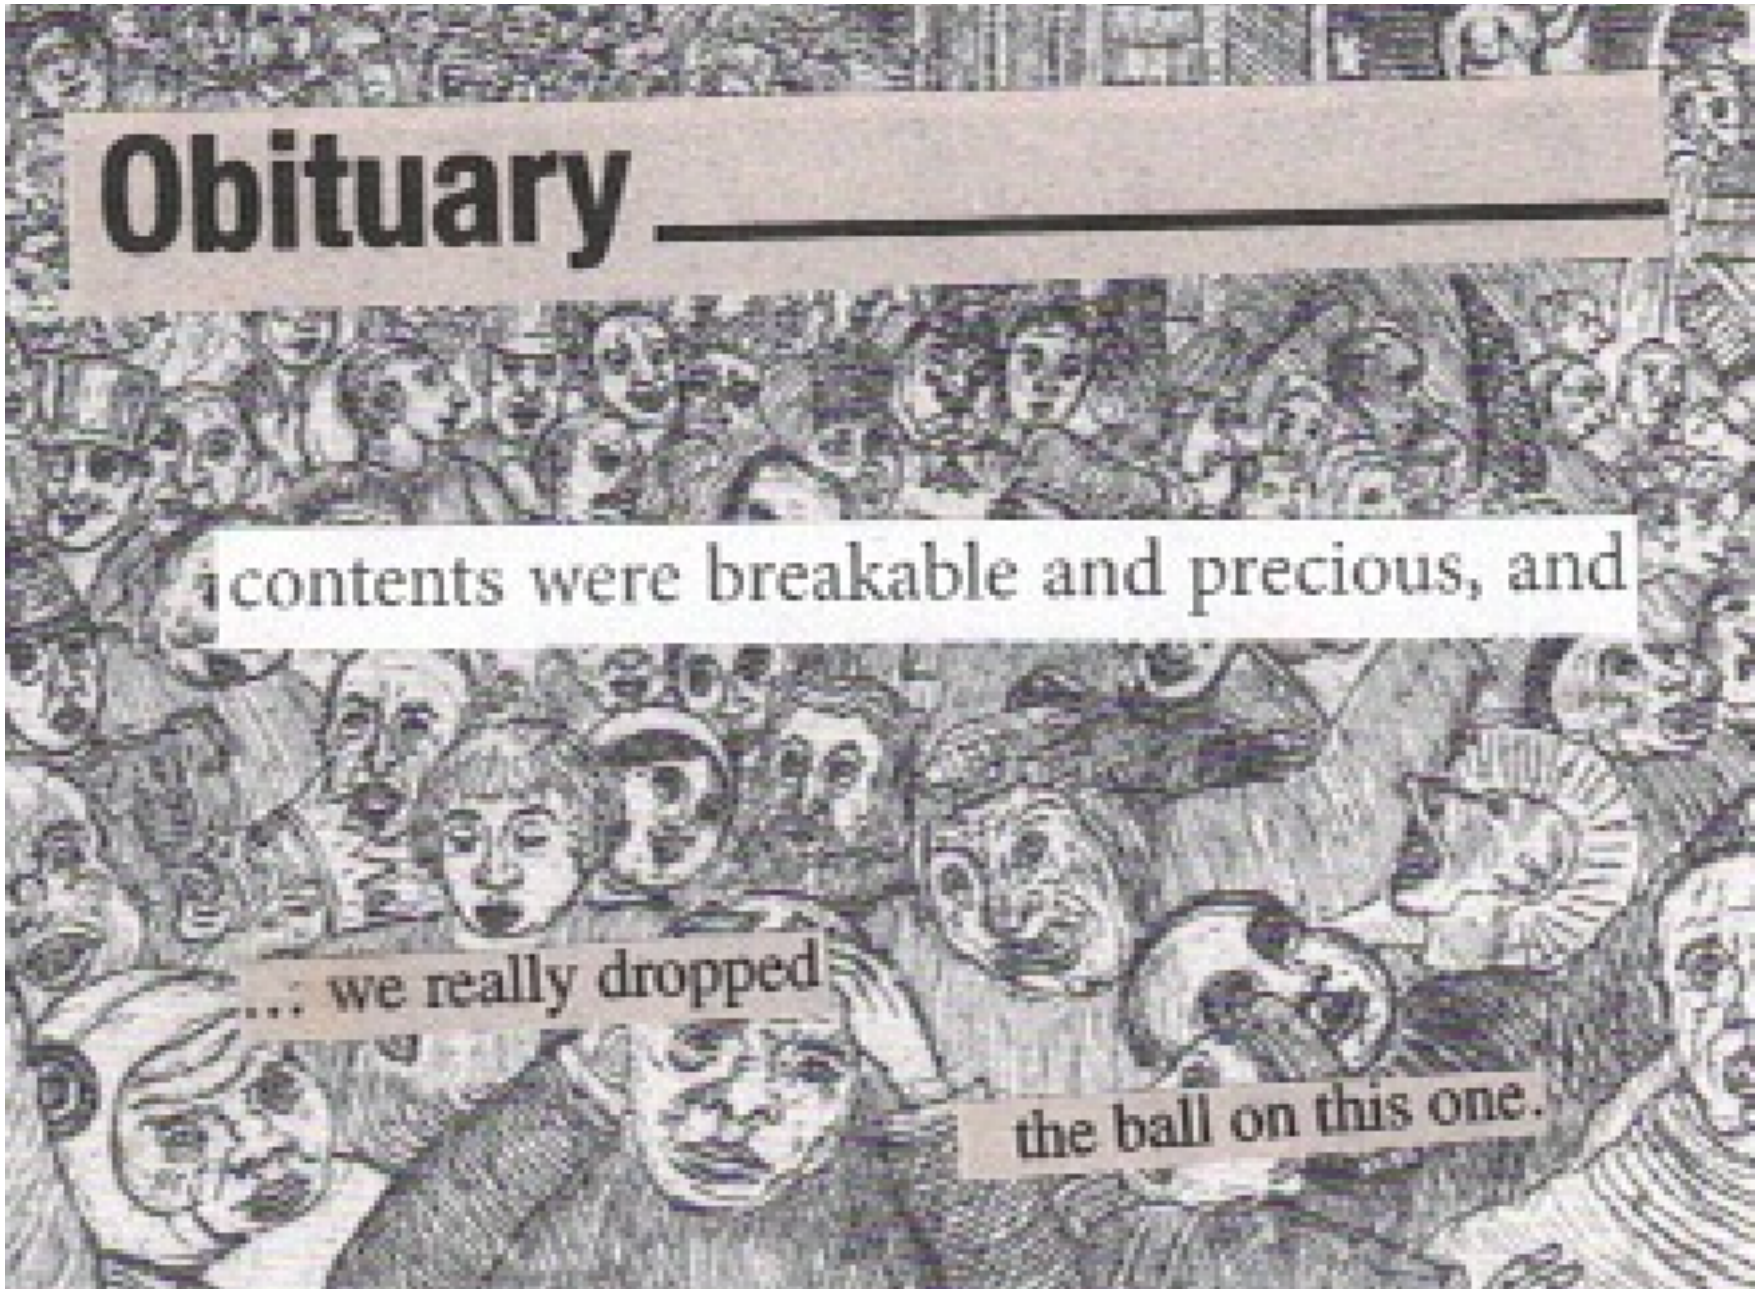
These people



Obituary
contents were breakable and precious, and
... we really dropped the ball on this one.

"What is the good of eating?"
"the sooner we die and get it over the better."
"While there is life there is hope,"

"Damn, damn,"

reflect upon the radical changes

that had disrupted

life:

wonder whether this adventure was sensible.

Who gives a damn

In the end,
"They're dead,"
"I'm not so sure."
We're not quite done with them yet.

Barn's burnt down
Now
I can see the moon
